

Germaine Guy – Nutrition and Dietetics Graduate Student

I'm honored to be selected as a featured student for 2017-2018. Being a graduate student in the School of Human Ecology has facilitated my growth as a registered dietitian. Taking classes that includes various topics of nutrition such as cardiovascular disease, kidney disease, oncology and worksite wellness has expanding my knowledge in nutritional sciences. The graduate faculty has been very supportive throughout my time in grad school and has provided valuable guidance and feedback throughout the process of working on my gradual project. I feel grateful that I have found this graduate program where I'm able to grow both personally and professionally.
