

Iris Garbarino – Nutrition and Dietetics Undergraduate Student

The School of Human Ecology has provided a positive, professional environment for me to learn and grow as a person, a student, and a future dietitian. One of the many advantages of being a part of a smaller college are the relationships that develop between the students and the faculty. Not only have my professors equipped me with the knowledge and skills to succeed in the classroom, but their constant encouragement has influenced me to further my education and pursue my goals. Through the School of Human Ecology, I have gained the education, experience, and confidence to move towards a bright future in the dietetic field.
